President Summons Ambassador To USSR

To Confer On Nations' Relations

Russ Say Mr. K Would Meet JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today summoned the U.S. ambassador to Russia back to Washington for consultation on all aspects of Soviet-American relations.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson is expected to arrive here by Monday, the White House announced.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger issued this statement:

"The President has requested Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to return for consultation on all aspects of Soviet-American relations."

"The ambassador is expected to arrive in Washington, D. C., by approximately Feb. 8."

"The president and the secretary of state are interested in having at first-hand Ambassador Thompson's observations and reports on the Soviet scene."

Communist sources say Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to be in the United States for the United Nations session in March and it is up to President Kennedy whether the two will meet.

Khrushchev himself is represented as agreeable to a meeting.

Seek Jurors For Trial Of Weger Accused Of Starved Rock Killings

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—Chester (Rocky) Weger, 21, his light brown crew cut grown long in a jail cell, appears calm as prosecution and defense wade through the tedium of jury selection in the trial which could mean Weger's life.

The lean, former dishwasher from LaSalle — charged with murdering three prominent Chicago suburbanite women last March in Starved Rock State Park — showed no emotion Monday as 27 LaSalle County residents were examined. Not one juror was picked, and the process resumes today.

No Honeymoon Period—

GOP Solons Maneuver To Slow JFK Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance President Kennedy may have had for a congressional honeymoon vanished today as Republicans maneuvered to slow down a program he said was needed to reverse an economic downturn.

With some conservative exceptions, Democrats called Kennedy's State of the Union message a realistic challenge to the American people to face up to their problems at home and abroad.

Influential Republicans took sharp issue with the President's contention that the U.S. economy was in serious trouble and needed immediate corrective measures.

Other GOP members objected strenuously to what they called Kennedy's "down-grading" of America's position in the world. Others accused the President of injecting partisanship into the blueprint he drew for the critical days he saw ahead.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, signalled a slowdown by calling for extensive committee hearings on most of the proposals Kennedy said he would submit to Congress in the next two weeks. Dirksen said that if they could Republicans would see that there would be "no ill-digested stuff rushed through Congress."

The Illinois senator said that if Kennedy's recommendations for a food for peace program, establishment of a peace corps and a convention (Continued On Page Seven)

Vote On Plan To Enlarge Rules Group

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., appeared to have a razor-thin edge as the House faced a showdown vote today on his plan to enlarge the Rules Committee.

But his apparent hairline margin could vanish before the actual voting gets under way. Last-minute maneuvering plus possible absenteeism could swing the decision either way in the vote slated for early afternoon.

There was a slim outside chance that a showdown might be averted between Rayburn and Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., Rules Committee chairman. Smith has fought any move to enlarge his group.

Talk of compromise still was in the air, although several proposed compromises have been turned down. The Rules Committee frequently has deadlocked 6-6 on questions of sending legislation to the House for a vote. The deadlocks usually have been on legislation backed by liberal Democrats. The committee split has been four Republicans and two Southern Democrats against six Democrats.

Rayburn's plan is designed to break the coalition hold by boosting the membership to 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. The additional Democrats would be men picked by Rayburn on the theory that they would vote for bills backed by the speaker and advocated by the Kennedy administration. It they voted that way, Rayburn forces would control the committee by an 8-7 edge.

The latest compromise move to stage off a fight almost certain to split Democratic ranks for some time was initiated by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa.

Walter came up with a plan to let the House itself decide what bills it will consider, and under what conditions, if the Rules Committee deadlocks.

The showdown on the Rayburn plan originally was scheduled for last Thursday but Rayburn put it off until today.

U.S. deputy marshals drove the Thompson children to the school where about 25 persons—mostly women—stood quietly looking on today from across the street.

A short time later, marshals accompanied the three Negro first-grade girls to McDonough.

Problems mounted at home for the boy's father, John N. Thompson, 33, a drug store employee with six children.

Margaret Lezina, Thompson's landlady, Monday ordered him to vacate his apartment next week when next month's rent is due. She said she is nervous and doesn't want any disturbance in the neighborhood.

But Thompson said he didn't think Mrs. Lezina could make him move.

An estimated 36 men and women jeered when federal marshals took Gregory to McDonough where three Negro first-grade girls are pupils.

He later repudiated the purported confession, charging authorities excited it with pressure and threats of the electric chair. But Circuit Judge Leonard Hoffman has agreed to let the document be admitted during the trial.

Twenty-three prospective jurors were excused Monday, some because they said they opposed the death penalty, others because they had preconceived opinions of Weger's guilt or innocence. Two were excused because of heart conditions. Four were held over to today. Some 100 have been empaneled for prospective jury duty.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says it has extended to March 1 its review period over operation of the Commonwealth Edison Co. nuclear reactor in Grundy County, Ill.

The Dresden reactor, near the Dresden Dam locks on the Illinois River, was shut down Nov. 15 after control rod trouble developed. Its output, which reached full-rated power of 180,000 electrical kilowatts last June, was fed into the company's system serving Chicago and northern Illinois.

The AEC granted Commonwealth a 40-year license last October subject to review within 45 days. The period had been extended to Dec. 16.

The Dresden plant was expected to be shut down for at least three months from the date the trouble began, an AEC spokesman said.

Admiral, Galvao Meet—Freedom Nears For Passengers

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—A U.S. admiral met Portuguese rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao at sea today in a conference that could mean swift freedom for the nearly 600 passengers aboard the captive liner Santa Maria.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, Va., announced the rendezvous of Rear Adm. Allen E. Smith Jr., and Galvao who seized the $16.6 million ship Jan. 22.

Smith said later his first talks with Galvao were "in general good." In a report to fleet headquarters the admiral quoted Galvao as saying he believed the new Brazilian administration taking office today will permit the Santa Maria to enter Recife Wednesday.

Smith, the Navy's Caribbean commander, sped out from Recife at daybreak aboard the U. S. destroyer Gearing to a point about 35 miles offshore where Galvao waited for the inauguration today of a new Brazilian president who has informally offered him and the ship safe haven.

The Navy announced the admiral went aboard the Santa Maria at 6:30 a.m. This conformed to original plans. It was reported here Monday night that Galvao had asked that the meeting be held on the destroyer.

The Gearing halted about 500 yards from the Santa Maria and Smith and his party, including two American diplomats posted in Brazil, made the crossing in a motor whaleboat.

A Recife tug carried 61 newsmen to the area, but was requested by the Navy to keep some distance away so as not to impede the Navy's operations.

The U. S. destroyer Damato was also on hand and two others, the destroyers Wilson and Vogelgesang, were expected to join forces with her and the Gearing.

From the Santa Maria, Galvao messaged a Brazilian friend that he hoped to enter Recife today.

Man To Follow If Ape Safe

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Space Agency said today the project Mercury spacecraft launched just before noon landed about 420 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A chimpanzee rode a Redstone rocket into space today, blazing the trail for the American astronauts.

The 60-foot rocket blasted off at 11:55 a.m. (EST). Its mission was to hurl the space ape to an altitude of 115 miles and 290 miles down the Atlantic missile range at a speed of 4,200 miles an hour.

Six of the seven astronauts were spectators at the launching. If the chimpanzee through the flight unharmed, one of the human space men may travel the same route within two months.

Ships, planes and helicopters waited in the planned impact zone in the Atlantic Ocean northeast of Grand Bahama Island, ready to recover the capsule in which the chimp rode.

The 374-pound male ape grinned and waved his arms when he was placed in the capsule at 6 a.m. Observers said "he seemed at ease about the whole thing."

Medical men picked him Monday from a group of four males and two females who had been trained for the job. The choice was based on his physical condition and mental attitude.

The slender, 83-foot Redstone soared smoothly from its pad, a bright trail of flame tracing its course as it raced across a clear blue sky. As the hot rocket penetrated the cold layer of air in the upper atmosphere, a puff of white contrail appeared in its wake.

Cape observers saw what appeared to be capsule separation about 140 seconds after launch at an altitude of approximately 35 miles.

Two and one-half hours before the scheduled launch time, about 6:30 a.m. EST, the chimp was transported to the launching area. He was a playful bundle of energy.

Despite Warmup—Ice Still Chokes Many Waterways

Despite a warming trend over much of the nation the past two days, the icy grip of prolonged frigid temperatures is threatening to choke off traffic on major waterways in the Midwest and Northeast.

Inland waterways from the Mississippi to the Hudson were caught in the tightening stranglehold of ice as the cold spell entered its 13th day for many areas.

The Hudson was frozen solid from West Point northward today with a conveyor of four vessels locked in ice reported to be 18 inches thick. The convey has been battling its way from Albany since Friday on the 150-mile trip to New York City.

Riverboat men waged a losing battle against the ice-choked Mississippi near Cairo, Ill. Three ice jams, two five miles long and one eight miles long, have all but halted traffic on the big river. A barge of flax said it would take 50-degree temperatures and rain to break the jams. The reading early today was 21.

One Mississippi towboat captain described the ice situation as the worst he'd seen in 28 years. The travel of small and large vessels in Chesapeake Bay was (Continued On Page Seven)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Budgetary Commission has been informed that $5 million is available from the driver education fund for use in meeting the state's pressing financial needs.

State School Supt. George Wilkins said Monday his office is unable to use all the money accumulated under the program since it was authorized in 1957.

About $4 million a year is received from drivers license fee renewals for disbursing to schools with driver education classes.

"We won't need more than $3 million this year," Wilkins said. "It would be okay with me if the Legislature decided to put $5 million of the money into the General Revenue fund."

Wilkins said the program hasn't developed as fast as anticipated. Under the program, the state pays $30 of the cost of teaching public driver education in public schools.

Wilkins told the budget planners his office will require about $4,840,500 for operating expenses during the 1961-62 period.

State Treasurer Joseph Lohman said he will need $1,166,680 for his office operating expenses in the next two years.

Members of the School Building Commission, which leads money to construct needed classrooms, also appeared before the budgetary group and asked for a $2-million deficiency appropriation. The Budget Commission said it would recommend $1 million.

Tribal Coup In Congo Presents Problem For Belgium And The UN

EDITOR'S NOTE: A tribal coup in the central African territory of Ruanda has posed a problem for Belgium and the United Nations. Here is a report on this latest potential African trouble spot.

By ADRIAN PORTER

USUMBURA, Ruanda-Urundi (AP)—The Belgian administration in Ruanda-Urundi is pressing the government in Brussels to recognize the new republican government of Ruanda territory, set up over the weekend in a peaceful tribal coup d'etat.

The administration evidently feels that the new government, though still legally out of bounds, is friendly to Belgium. Official sympathy for the infant republic is open enough to confirm the belief of foreign diplomats that the Belgian administration, if it did not actively encourage the coup, did nothing to prevent it and doesn't want to act against it now.

An administration spokesman reported that the situation was calm in Ruanda, the northern half of Ruanda-Urundi, which Belgium administers as a U. N. trusteeship territory. He said the new government appeared to be well in control and was hoisting the new green, yellow and red flag of the Ruanda republic on all flagpoles.

The new government is headed by Premier Gregoir Kayibanda and made up of members of his moderate Parmehutu party and other similar popular parties. It is supported by the Bahutu tribe, who make up 85 per cent of the population and who were dominated by the aristocratic Watutsi tribe headed by deposed Mwami (king) Kigeri V.

Kayibanda and President Dominique Mbuyumutwa, a Bahutu chief, have said they want the U. N. trusteeship administered by Belgium to continue.

Coming In Clear

Wisely used, the live TV press conference as inaugurated by President Kennedy promises important benefits for the American public and potential political gains for the President himself.

The first such conference was a resounding success on several levels. It contained a substantial quota of hard news. It moved rapidly over many widely varied questions—33 in 38 minutes. It featured the President's opinions on hot topics, like the current House Rules Committee fight.

So long as a reasonable blend of these elements is present, the live TV broadcast of presidential press conferences is bound to attract big audiences as a good show.

Their value to the viewing citizen, of course, is much more than that. They can give him a sense of participation in the workings of his government, a feeling of immediacy and involvement with the issues of the day. In a wholly palatable way, they can instruct him.

Kennedy placed his finger on this point. He sees the live presentation as an advance in "direct communication" between the White House and the people. The purpose accords well with the general aim of a democracy to develop an informed public equipped for the choices it must make.

But the live conference can mean a good deal to Kennedy, too. To the extent that he is dealing steadily and directly with the people over the heads of Congress, he will increase his leverage on the lawmakers and enhance his authority and prestige.

Moreover, regular appearances on TV will surely enlarge and intensify the general image the public has of the President. If, as in the first effort, he continuously conveys an air of crisp, clear command, of confidence, of full grasp of the issues and policies, he obviously can only advance his personal political cause.

By its nature, the presidency already commands a large share of the national spotlight. Live TV appearances will add further dimensions to the President's broad area of automatic publicity.

This additional advantage, compounding a condition of imbalance that has long existed between an incumbent chief executive and his political challengers, puts fresh responsibility on Kennedy.

In the interest of fair elections, of offering the voters a clearly understood choice, he is bound now more than ever to meet his presidential adversary in 1964 in live TV combat such as occurred—to his great benefit—in 1960.

Sensibly the President has moved toward fuller communication with the people. As a fair-minded man he should be the last to attempt to monopolize these improved avenues of contact. We must hope that he will not.

The Fifth Estate

Any professional man will agree that one of his hardest jobs is keeping up with the journals published for his particular profession. The problem is particularly acute for dentists and physicians, who simply cannot afford to fall behind advances in their fields.

Yet a lot of the trouble stems from the involved type of writing common to these journals.

To meet the problem, Ohio State University's school of journalism is offering courses to professionals. For in newspapers, nothing is so important as clear, concise writing.

Plenty Of Moon Shine

If you've been keeping tabs, you won't be surprised to know that February won't have a full moon this year. It happened in 1915 and will happen again in 1980. It also happened in 1866 and 1893, reports Prof. Charles H. Smiley of Brown University.

But the year won't be cheated out of its usual 13 moons. January and March will each have had two.

Kennedy's Message Rings Bell With Western Europe Editors

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (U) — President Kennedy's State of the Union message won wide acclaim in newspapers of Western Europe today.

It even received a kind of pat on the back in Moscow, where newspapers published up to half page of excerpts, including Kennedy's outline of areas where U.S. and Soviet interests conflict.

No Moscow paper gave any reaction or comment to the speech, but the range of excerpts they published were remarkable. As expected, they included in detail the President's views on the internal U.S. situation, the dollar problem, the recession and school shortages, as well as his appeal to the Soviet Union for scientific cooperation in outer space.

But they also included such items as Kennedy's declaration that "we must never forget our hopes for the ultimate freedom and welfare of the eastern European peoples" and his declaration that neither the Soviet Union nor Communist China has yielded their ambitions for world domination.

AP Chief of Bureau Preston Grever cabled from Moscow that such statements were likely to provoke strong reaction in Soviet circles.

In general, the Western press expressed the view that the speech had cleared the international air and might serve to rouse the United States from a long sleep.

The London Daily Express headline—"Wake up, Americans!"—was typical.

The independent Die Welt of Hamburg, West Germany commented: "The things Americans were told yesterday about their economy, the dollar, unemployment, and lack of scientific education will produce some grave head-shaking."

"But they will also be able to breathe with relief. Finally they were told how things stand. And since they are realistic, they will shift into faster gear."

Rome's independent Il Tempo declared that "under the guidance of the most typical representative of the young generation, the United States has passed from defensive and passive resistance to the offensive."

In Paris, the leftist Combat described the speech as a rude awakening for Americans but said Kennedy's aim was to move the country into action "without panic and without fear."

Other comment: Some West Berlin newspapers were concerned over Kennedy's omission of any reference to continuing East-West tension in the former German capital city.

Britain's conservative Daily Mail compared Kennedy to Sir Winston Churchill because both, the newspapers said, were not afraid to tell the people the truth.

Lifting the Caliber of TV

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP MOVIE TV WRITER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Things seem to be looking up in the movie business. Studio streets are busy. Sales executives are getting chipper again.

But the indications of prosperity are not merely in these intangible signs. You can also see it in the hard facts as reported in the trade press:

MGM stepping up production to a 13-year high, earnings highest in 12 years . . . 20th-Fox ahead of 1960 in top grossers . . . Paramount invests $21 million in nine pictures now shooting, $30 million in films in preparation . . .

Hollywood parlors up from $149 to $153 average over previous year . . . Universal-International takes biggest stock jump in 1960. Hollywood studio shortage looms.

Producer chief Eric Johnston has cited a "pervasive optimism" in the film business. He predicted 170 films to be made here in 1961 vs. 120 in strike-torn 1960.

Perhaps the most authoritative sign comes from the U.S. Department of Commerce. It estimated American box office receipts for 1960 at $7.7 billion, 7.5 per cent better than 1959. And the department estimated that 1961 receipts will be even higher.

The box offices have been clicking nicely in the first month of 1961. Even the high-cost epics "Spartacus" and "The Alamo," which the censors hangers said would be heavy losses, appear to be prospering.

Why is business better? I asked 20th-Fox production boss Bob Goldstein, whose studio is humming with its biggest activity in years.

"There's a new attitude in Hollywood," he said. "We have found out that we can get people out of their homes—if we can give them enough incentive. It's entirely up to us now. If we give them enough good attractions, we'll do business."

"We're competing in the open market for the entertainment dollar. Television is a big competitor. It was great for the man who works all day and likes nothing better than to take off his shoes and sit in front of the TV set."

"But there's his wife to consider. She has been home all day and wants to get out. If we can give her enough ammunition to get her husband out of the easy chair, they'll go to the theater. Apparently we're doing just that."

Goldstein speculated that many Americans have grown disenchanted with the sameness of TV and are seeking more varied entertainment in theaters. Whatever the reason, Hollywood is enjoying a lift in morale that it hasn't known in years.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★ Hoped for: Positive Approach To Unemployment Problem

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "Everyone with compassion in his heart would like to see better employment prospects," says the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. in a business news feature just issued here.

Not even left wing labor leaders can take exception to that. But the U.S. chamber makes this declaration in between a couple of other statements that are apt to be challenged by Kennedy administration spokesmen interested in putting jobless Americans back to work.

"Unemployment is concentrated among the young, the unskilled and the minority races," says the chamber after its analysis of government figures. The chamber therefore argues:

"If these young people, these unskilled workers and these nonwhite workers cannot find now enough jobs under existing wage rates, it is likely that they will find jobs under even higher rates."

"There is nothing humane," the national chamber then concludes, "in raising the minimum wage (from $1 to $1.15 or $1.25 an hour) and pricing people out of jobs."

If this somewhat tortured logic is pursued to the end, it would seem that the way to reduce unemployment would be to cut all wage levels to the present minimum.

That most certainly isn't going to happen and it wouldn't bring back prosperity if it did. All it would do is further reduce purchasing power, bringing on even worse business conditions.

But this is typical of much of the misinformation now being circulated on the current recession and unemployment.

When Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, was briefing reporters on former President Eisenhower's last economic report to Congress, he was asked if the expected big increase in the labor force and higher productivity in industry did not contribute to unemployment.

He admitted that they did. He was then asked if that did not mean there was a shortage of jobs and a need to create more work opportunities.

"Oh, no," he said vehemently. "That's where the reporter was wrong. There were plenty of jobs available. There were actually labor shortages in some occupations, like data processing and other highly skilled technical work."

The trouble was, Saulnier went on, that the requirements of the labor market were becoming more exacting. This was a consequence of rapid technological development.

The labor force was not accommodating itself to this aspect of a changing economy and there was a need for upgrading in the education and vocational training of workers.

Such unemployment as there is, he maintained, is spotty. It is concentrated in depressed areas whose industries are dead or dying.

This is, of course, the typical "do-nothing" approach to unemployment, hoping that after a while it will correct itself.

If labor can't find jobs, it's labor's fault. The responsibility of the free enterprise system to create new jobs for the technologically unemployed and the need to train workers for higher skills in automated industry are completely ignored.

The responsibility of government to provide incentives for private industry to stimulate higher employment is not even considered.

Those are not going to be the policies of the Kennedy administration. With about 5.5 million Americans out of work now, with only 3.3 million of them eligible for state unemployment compensation and with the prospect that unemployment may rise to 7.5 million, the new administration apparently intends to try to correct the trend.

"Everyone with a compassionate heart," to use the U.S. Chamber of Commerce phrase, may have reason to hope it succeeds.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—That ancient struggle between a president and Congress—sometimes ended over, sometimes quietly sullen, sometimes raw and bleeding—began anew today.

Like windswept Robert Frost's poem, President Kennedy's tidy managerial skills are the disciplined expression of a spirit which showed itself both human and humane.

Much that he said Kennedy can carry out on his own through the powers of the presidency.

But on the broad meat-and-potatoes level of government there is much he can't do without the help of Congress which must give approval for both spending money and starting programs.

So today in his State of the Union message Kennedy had to come face to face for the first time as president with a Congress where he himself served 14 years.

Because he knows it well he knows the endless struggle to get action on what he wants. Congress can be led easily only in moments of frightening emergency, like war or depression.

Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower could bear witness to this.

True, Congress is run by Kennedy's own Democrats because they outnumber the Republicans. But the real control is in the hands of the conservative of both parties, as it has been for years.

Their policy is to move slowly, if at all. Eisenhower learned that. But he was a conservative, too, and it is one reason he and Congress got along so well.

Kennedy, despite his talk of new frontiers, may turn out to be no boat-rocker, either. He indicated at his news conference last week he intends to keep hands off the inner workings of Congress. This may be taken to mean he will avoid interfering publicly.

But he also knows that unless he and his team pull the strings behind the scenes his programs will die in the cradle.

Since the war this country has gone through two phases. It is not clear yet whether the years ahead will be a third one or a continuation of an old one.

The first was the postwar Truman phase which lasted eight years. It was a turbulent time of adjusting to peace, of labor strife, inflation, industrial expansion, trouble with Russia, even of suspicion of the government itself in the form of McCarthyism.

It was an era of transition from terrible power, the atomic bomb, to incredible power, the hydrogen bomb. It was the time when America finally abandoned isolationism for internationalism.

It was a period which cried for, and got, innovations in the form of foreign aid, military alliances, and bases around Russia.

Eisenhower, apparently, looked on himself not as an innovator but as a restorer of peace at home and a preserver of peace abroad. He tried nothing really new but America became prosperous and there was no war.

His was also the time when the world moved into the jet and missile age. It was a time when this country and Russia, while avoiding war, consolidated forces and prepared for what might become war.

At this point Kennedy steps in. There is peace at home but the world, still without war, is in upheaval.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Cortical Steroid Family Beneficial—Under Control

BY H. T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written For NEA

A discerning correspondent asks: "How is it that cortical steroids have so many different names and are used for so many different conditions that don't seem to be related? I'm getting injections of one preparation in a bursa. One of my fellow librarians is taking another in pill form for arthritis. And her brother was relieved of an attack of asthma the other night with an injection of still another product."

To take the easiest question first. The cortical steroids are available in many forms, under many different names, merely as a means of identifying the products of different manufacturers.

Like the many different makes of automobiles, any one of which will take you where you want to go and bring you back, the different brands of cortical steroid are basically alike. They differ only in minor details like the size of the effective dose. One doctor uses one brand and another a competing brand, just as one drives a Ford and another a Chevrolet or a Plymouth.

Just so long as the individual doctor gets to know the brand he is using, it doesn't make much difference which he prescribes or injects. Like his car, it gets him and his patient where they want to go and, when they're ready to return, brings them back.

As for the more difficult question regarding the number and variety of conditions for which steroids are used, the explanation may be more difficult.

The basic reaction of the human body to any injury is the process of inflammation. Whether you suffer a bump, a burn, an infection or an allergy, you'll react with the fundamental responses of pain, redness, heat and swelling. And, ordinarily you try to increase that reaction by rubbing the spot, applying a hot water bottle or an electric pad, soaking in a warm fluid, or anointing the area with an irritant like mustard or wintergreen oil.

Now every once in a while, the inflammatory reaction gets out of hand, like the kick of a gun. And when that happens the reaction may be worse than its cause. Too much reaction makes your bursa bulge until it aches. It limits the mobility of your fellow librarian's joints. It causes her brother's bronchial tubes to clamp down until he can't get air out of or into his lungs.

In each of these instances, the cortical steroid acts like its parent gland. It has an anti-inflammatory action that relieves each of you temporarily. Your bursa quiets down. Your companion's joints loosen up. And her brother's bronchial relax. But it cures nothing.

That's why your doctor gives you the smallest possible dose for the least possible time.

And that's why you should never dose yourself with a cortical steroid without your doctor's permission and then only if you remain under his close supervision.

Income Tax Does Color
Our Thoughts, Actions

Ever stop to think what a big influence that yearly tax to Uncle Sam has on our way of thinking?

Well, it isn't unusual to hear a young married couple hope their first born arrives in time to be a tax deduction—instead of waiting until after the first of the year.

And there do seem to be an increasing number of marriages around Christmas time. As inconvenient as that time might be to the bride's mother, it means the happy couple can file a joint return.

Lots of people get entertained by business associates who wouldn't bother—if the entertainment weren't tax deductible.

And plenty of husbands drive the big car while their wives take the little, economical "second" car—when the husband can charge off part of his car as a business expense.

Wives have even been known to quit their jobs because their pay check boosted the family income into a higher tax bracket.

And a man can always be cheered up when he has lost money in the stock market or made a bad loan by the reminder that he takes his losses off his income tax.

"After all it's tax deductible" has even become a better justification for spending money than "It was such a bargain I just couldn't resist it."

Open House Honors Scott Couple's 50th Anniversary

By Dorothy Easer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3433)

WINCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Weder were honored Sunday afternoon with an Open House from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The affair was planned and arranged for by the couple's 12 children. They received a large number of gifts and floral bouquets as well as cards. A telegram of congratulations from Mr. Weder's sister, Mrs. Loretta Murphy, in California was received Sunday morning just prior to the reception.

Over 200 guests who called during the afternoon were registered by Mrs. Leo Robinson, Mrs. Barbara Heaton and Albert Weder, Jr., were in charge of the gift table which was centered with a beautiful centerpiece of yellow roses and golden leaves.

The serving table was adorned with a lace cloth with appointments in silver and crystal. A three tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow roses and topped with a gold "50" centered the serving table. Refreshments of cake, coffee, punch, mints and nuts were served the guests by Mrs. Edna Lawless of Lynnville, Mrs. Anne Newberry of St. Louis, and Mrs. Helen Williams of Springfield.

Others assisting with the reception all during the afternoon were Roy, Bill, and Herman Weder, of Winchester, Mrs. Donna Means of Springfield, Mrs. Ina Stice and Mrs. Lois Stice of Winchester.

Out-of-town guests attending the reception were from East St. Louis, St. Louis, Springfield, Peoria, Jacksonville and Murrayville.

Following the reception a potluck dinner was held at the Weder home for the children and their families.

Legion To Meet
The regularly scheduled meeting for the Winchester American Legion Post will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, commencing with a fish fry at 7:00 p.m. for members and their invited guests. Don Cox, commander, will preside over the business during which time the $5 door prize will be awarded.

Plans will be completed for a potluck supper followed by both round and square dancing for Legion members, their wives, and their invited guests on Feb. 9.

CWF To Meet
A part of the reported CWF meeting to be held this Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Christian church dining hall was incorrectly given to the correspondent. The corrected program is as follows: Mrs. Nancy Schwab will present the program and Mrs. Bruce Cooper will serve as worship leader. The ladies of the Dorcas Circle will be hostesses at the meeting.

Confraternity Sunday
The opening of the 1961 Confraternity series for the members of St. Mark's Church was held Sunday, Jan. 29, commencing with family Holy Communion at the morning masses. In the evening a 6 o'clock potluck was held for the adult members of the group in the dining hall of the church. Father J. J. Sullivan, former pastor of Morrisonville, was a guest at the potluck.

Following a short business meeting in charge of the pastor, Father James O'Hara, several of those present enjoyed the western style square dance with Max Roberts of Grigsville serving as instructor and caller.

Sunday morning, Feb. 5, following second Mass the first leader's meeting, led by Father O'Hara, will be held for the purpose of instructing the leaders of the first lesson. The hosts of each group will serve as leaders and are to be at the instructions each Sunday morning.

Mayor Makes Report To Council; Favors New Park District

"I feel as do others that our best solution in handling the financing of our recreation is to form a park district," Mayor Robert A. DuBois said during his annual report to the city council Monday night. "I believe that very soon the Park Board will be making such a proposal," he added.

The mayor pointed out that the city ended the year owing "considerably less" than previous years.

He said in his written report that no new taxes have been added "but as wages and prices go up, and this is inevitable, then we will have to compensate for it."

Mayor DuBois pointed to possibilities of encouraging and building up retail sales as one way to increased revenue, thus affording a larger amount of sales taxes for the city.

His report on 1960 activities follows:

Members of the City Council Jacksonville, Illinois Gentlemen:

My report this year has been made easier due to the splendid reports already in your hands from the Fire and Police Chiefs. I am sure everyone will join with me in expressing appreciation for the excellent record turned in by these two departments. As they continue their programs of improvement in methods and personnel knowledge let them have our whole hearted support and encouragement.

The Board of Local Improvement has had a fairly active year. Several water and sewer projects have been completed — others are being processed and still others are on the drawing boards to be processed in 1961. There are many areas in the city that do not have these vital services available and it should be our constant aim to assist in bringing them to everyone. The West Walnut widening and resurfacing project is now under contract and should be completed in 1961, Lincoln Avenue paving, storm sewer and sidewalk project is well under way and the same applies to the North Main street lighting. We expect to get well along with the surfacing of North Webster and Massey Lane before the year is out. Each street completed in this fashion lessens the burden on the highway budget.

Recreation — One of the highlights of 1960 was the dedication of the Lakeside Community Park. This was a much needed addition to our recreation facilities and opens up this great area for many types of outdoor activities and sports. We should this year concentrate on improving the roads in and around the lake. Nichols Park needs improvement and I feel as do others that our best solution in handling the financing of our recreation is to form a Park District. I believe that very soon the Park Board will be making such a proposal.

The Cemetery Board has now moved into the City Hall where it rightfully should be. New collection and follow up methods have been instituted and adjustments in prices for services have been made. They are in need of replacement of old and worn out equipment but do not have the funds. If the council would help them get this needed equipment they should then be in a position to carry on alone.

The Plan Commission has been working with representatives of Everet Kincaid and Associates, developing a comprehensive City Plan. They are a dedicated group and deserve the thanks of everyone. At present they are gathering up the tag ends and ironing out other perplexing matters preparatory to presenting to the council. It would appear at times that our progress in this direction is slow and yet much has already been accomplished during the developing period. We have and are enforcing a building code—subdivision ordinance—an ordinance restricting bill boards etc. In addition we are enjoying safer and better controlled traffic around the square, one way traffic has been reversed at the four corners of the square and extended an additional block in each direction—left turn lanes and yield right of way signs are being used to facilitate movement of traffic. The Commission will soon present a realistic zoning ordinance for your consideration and after that the overall completed plan will be presented. The job then for this and future years will be to implement it as fast as possible for in my opinion it is most vital to the future of Jacksonville.

Finances—This is a problem that is ever with us. Except for the Sewer, which was down, all other departments had increases in their expenditures in amounts ranging from slight to considerable. Even though the costs were up I feel they all did a good job and the results of their efforts will bear this out.

I will not go into detail covering finances but do want to point out certain facts so that you may be alerted to the need for some further belt tightening where possible. We did end the year owing considerable less than previous years. Unpaid vouchers amounting to $13,498.87 is for road oil and is a part of the current year's deliveries—nothing held over from the previous year. Some of our revenues were up such as wheel tax—sewerage maintenance—sales taxes—fines and penalties while other sources showed a decrease, such as parking meter revenues due primarily to the extremely bad weather in February and March. During the year we transferred $146,884.00 from the special funds as compared with $113,106.00 in 1959. We did not completely deplete these funds but our starting balances in each is less now than at the beginning of 1960. No new taxes have been added but as wages and prices go up, and this is inevitable, then we will have to compensate for it.

Finally, since sales tax is the largest single item of revenue, we should concentrate on ways and means of encouraging shoppers from a larger area to come to Jacksonville. We can help in this direction by continuing to make ours a safe—decent—attractive and convenient city. By being alert and attentive to these matters we can continue to go forward as a proud and prosperous city.

Respectfully submitted,
Robt. A. DuBois
Mayor
1-30-61

Andell Services At Winchester

WINCHESTER—Funeral services for William Andell were held Sunday, January 29, at 2:30 p.m. at the Woodcock Funeral Home in Winchester with Rev. Crawford Harmon, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Mrs. Homer Rockwood sang one vocal selection, "Lead, Kindly Light," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Muri Hardy.

The floral offerings were in charge of Mrs. Jackson Jones, Mrs. Homer Conover, and Mrs. Mary Wallace. Casketbearers were Charles Brown, Robert Brown, Brownie H. Brown, Robert Dehman, James Kileman, and Edward Brown.

Interment was in the Winchester City Cemetery.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS
The American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 279 will hold its February meeting on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Home, Mrs. Irene Vernon, Americanism chairman, is in charge of the program for the evening and Mr. Ernest Hoagland will be the speaker. His topic will be the electoral college.

Ask Zone Change For Erection Of New Supermarket

Blueprints for a new supermarket to be built at an estimated cost of $250,000 were exhibited to members of the city council last night in connection with a petition asking that a number of lots along Hoagland boulevard, east of Pearl street and extending to South Diamond street, be changed from A Single Family Class to E Commercial Class.

Petitioners are Raymond E. Bourn and Maude Bourn, owners of the property, and Gene Marquardt of Manito, Ill., who proposes to erect a building of 10,000 square feet and establish a supermarket.

Attorney Albert W. Hall appeared before the council on behalf of the petitioners. He presented plans for the council's inspection.

After discussing the petition briefly, the council voted on motions by Aldermen DeFries and Schulz to refer it to the City Plan Commission.

Has Option To Buy
The petition stated that Marquardt has an option to buy the property on or before April 18. The Manito businessman, president of Gene's Supermarkets, Inc., also operates food stores at Manito, Petersburg, and Pontiac.

From 1947-1956 he was employed as manager of Vogel, Inc., in Pekin, Ill.

Seeking a reclassification of the property on which to build a new market, Mr. Marquardt stated that his proposed store would employ 30 or more persons, practically all of whom would be Jacksonville residents. A payroll of $100,000 annually is anticipated.

The supermarket would front on Diamond street, with a parking lot for 100 cars.

Fire Training Sessions
Reporting for the fire committee, Alderman Johnson announced that seven training sessions will be held at the fire department during the next three months by Chief W. J. Eckert, extension specialist of firemanship training at the University of Illinois. Dates of the sessions are Feb. 20, March 6, 13, and 27; April 3, 10, 17.

An invoice of Burns & McDonnell, consulting engineers on the light improvement project, for residential engineer services in December amounting to $1,004.93 was read and payment authorized on motion by Alderman Hocking seconded by Alderman Belzer.

Chief Runkel of the police department discussed the Civil Defense announcement that Jacksonville will be one of 400 cities in the United States where air raid warning units will be installed. He said that should an enemy craft or missile cross the "DEW" line into this country, the Jacksonville instruments would give warning within 90 seconds.

The chief said Jacksonville has been listed as an evacuation area by Civil Defense.

Approve 4-H Building
Alderman Lemon of the public property committee reported that the committee met last week with Western Illinois 4-H Club officials and discussed plans for erection of a caretaker's home at the 4-H camp near Lake Jacksonville.

The camp is located on city property under lease. Alderman Lemon moved, seconded by Alderman Burchett, that permission be granted to the camp association to build the house. All councilmen voted favorable on the resolution.

Alderman Souza inquired if the sewer committee has made further study of the south side disposal plant, which at various times has been reported near capacity.

Alderman Belzer, chairman of the committee, and Mayor DuBois reported a conference with Dr. William Hatfield of Decatur on Jan. 17, which also was attended by officials of Anderson, Clayton & Co., which has a contract with the city for disposition of industrial waste material. Samples of waste entering the disposal plant were taken every two hours over a 24 hour period and analysis will be made by the state laboratory.

After getting the report on these tests we will know more about how to proceed," the mayor stated.

Award Pump Contract
A contract was awarded to Joseph E. Doyle on his low bid of $5,550 for installation of a filter backwash pump, furnishing and installing valves, piping and fittings at the water filtration plant. Bids were received one week ago and referred to the water committee.

The council voted permission to Explorer Scouts to camp Feb. 10 in Central Park.

Rev. Darwin Clapper offered invocation at the beginning of Monday night's meeting.

Aldermen Grojean, Scott, and Tribble were absent.

Attorney Thomas Rose served as acting city attorney, taking the place of City Attorney William T. Wilson who is on vacation in Mexico.

Diana Plogger, 4, Dies In Florida; Rites In Greene

CARROLLTON — Diana Lynn Plogger, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eugene and Betty Verbie Plogger died Jan. 28 at Panama City, Fla. She was born Nov. 6, 1956 in Carrollton.

Miss Plogger is survived by her parents, one brother, Russell Eugene, and one sister, Donna Kay. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Plogger and Mr. and Mrs. Oran Verbie, all of Carrollton, also survive.

The remains will come to the Mehl Funeral Home where the family will receive friends Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and until noon Thursday.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the funeral home, Rev. Albert Monroe officiating. Burial will be made in Carrollton City cemetery.

SIGNAL MARCH OF DIMES ALERT 24 HOURS EARLY
A long continuous signal from the whistle of the Jacksonville State Hospital to mark the start of the Mother's March for the Jacksonville Instruments would give warning within 90 seconds.

The chief said Jacksonville has been listed as an evacuation area by Civil Defense.

Approve 4-H Building

TRAPPED IN ICE—Caught by the weight of shifting ice, the 2,000-horsepower Havana Zephyr lists to one side today in a mammoth ice gorge in the Mississippi river just north of Cairo. The towboat, owned by a St. Louis firm, and its four barges laden with bulk concrete were forced against the Illinois side of the river in the five-mile ice jam, which had halted river traffic in the area. Other vessels were trying to free the Zephyr.

Dawn Rebekahs Entertain District Officers At Bluffs

BLUFFS — Dawn Rebekah Lodge, No. 169 of Bluffs entertained District Officers at their regular meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 25 in the IOOF Hall. Noble Grand Rosemary Brown conducted the meeting and presided at the business session. Betty Neese introduced the District executive officers, District Deputy Johanna Mullen, Bluffs; District President Helen Bates, Bluffs; vice president Vera Hankins, Rochester; Treasurer Gertrude Huffman of Waverly.

The president, Helen Bates, then introduced her appointive officers, Warden, Martha Bawner, River-ton; Marjorie Funk, Page, Springfield; Mildred Dugan, Chaplain, of Beardstown; Soloist, Gwendolyn Boyd, Beardstown; LS of President, Johanna Mullen, Bluffs; Una Wisslead of Springfield, a member of the credentials committee of the assembly, was also introduced. Ina Colling of Beardstown served as musician. Past presidents in attendance were Norma Scribner of Waverly; Grace Page of Springfield and Johanna Mullen of Bluffs.

The next meeting, Feb. 8, will be school of instruction conducted by Johanna Mullen, district deputy president. A Valentine exchange will be enjoyed. The February social committee was named by Mrs. Brown to be Beulah Sears, Cora Parks and Mae Smith. At the close of the meeting, Craig Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Merle Korty, entertained the guests with two clarinet solos. Miss Rita Brown favored the group with two piano solos. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Opal Gregory.

FRIDAY ERROR
CARNEY, Md. (AP) — As the bus packed with schoolchildren pulled up to a rural restaurant, the cook put 60 patties of ground beef on the grill — so the hamburgers would be ready to serve when the boys and girls placed their orders. Then, somebody remembered it was Friday. Then somebody else learned the youngsters were from a Roman Catholic school. Then—as the ground beef sizzled—the orders came in. Tuna sandwiches mostly. Hamburgers? Not a single one.

FISH TRIPLE PLAY
LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Striped sea bass from Virginia's James River were transported to Kentucky Lake on the Tennessee River by a triple play. The fish, which live part of their lives in salt water and part in fresh, were collected by the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory. An Army helicopter airlifted them to Langley and a Tennessee National Guard plane flew them to Kentucky Lake. Propagation of the fish in fresh water lakes has been successful in both Virginia and South Carolina.

Waverly Woman's Club To Hear Music Program

WAVERLY — The February meeting of the Waverly Woman's Club will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 3, in the social room of the Methodist Church. The program has been arranged by Miss Lucille Hageman, a member of the music committee of the club, and will be given by Mrs. J. D. Liehr, of Chambersburg on American folk music.

Mrs. Liehr's hobby is folk songs from the early colonial period to the middle of the 19th century. She will illustrate her talk with recorded selections. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Jay Wemple and Mrs. Guy Martin.

The social committee in charge of the tea, following the program, will be Mrs. Marvin Walls, chairman; Mrs. Robert Hall, co-chairman; Mesdames Keith Malsbury, Arthur Mayberry, Robert Etter, John Woods, and Miss Eva McIntire.

Ten Simple Steps Toward Better Marks

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.,
with HARRY KARNS

Good work habits are essential if you want to make better grades. When the manager of a factory wants to produce more goods and wants more profits, he calls in an efficiency expert. The expert tells him how to rearrange his machinery and after the habits of his workers so that the work can be done faster and with greater ease.

Many potentially brilliant students need a similar overhauling of their work habits. When they get it, their brilliance is uncovered.

It saves time and energy to know where and when you are going to work, how you are going to work, and what you are going to work at.

Once you get in the habit of doing assignments according to a certain pattern, the task of getting down to work ceases to agonize you. It comes naturally and is, in fact, enjoyable.

You find, also, that you now have more time for other things. Here are some suggestions that will help you do more efficient work:

1. Have a regular place of study in your home.

Make sure it has good lighting and is situated away from the TV set, the radio, and the confusion of the rest of the house. You may not be able to avoid all noise and interruptions, but you should have a place that is relatively quiet and free of intrusions.

In this study nook, provide a place to put your books so you will always know where they are. You should not have to hunt through the house. The student who spends 10 or 15 minutes searching desperately under newspapers and behind divans for a textbook is not always in the best frame of mind for study when he finds it. A good student knows where his books are.

2. Set aside a regular time to study and a fairly regular amount of time to devote to it.

According to Dr. James Conant, the senior high school student preparing for college today should spend from 15 to 20 hours a week in study outside the classroom.

3. Always make sure you understand exactly what you are expected to do on assignments.

Ask the teacher questions until this is clear in your mind. Never leave subject matter to guesswork.

4. Keep a "Things-I-Have-to-Do" list.

Every time you are given an assignment, put it on the list and assign yourself a specified time at which to do it.

5. Do your work as soon as you can.

Even if you see an hour or a day in the future which you are sure will be free for study, try to do the work sooner. So often those future times you think you can depend on are suddenly wiped out by emergencies and unexpected events.

6. Allow yourself enough time for each assignment.

But do not spend so much time on one assignment that others suffer.

7. When your mind begins to wander, quit working for five or 10 minutes.

Relax. These periodic work breaks bring you back to the job amazingly refreshed and ready to go on.

8. Do your own work.

After all, you—not Dad or Mom or the neighbor—are supposed to be getting the education. You won't have Dad's brain with you on exam day.

There is nothing wrong, of course, with asking for advice and examples. But the basic work should be your own. After getting help from another person, test whether you can do the problem for yourself.

9. Use the dictionary.

If you do not understand all the words used by the instructor or the author of your textbook, you will not understand all the lesson. You should be able to define the terms used. A dictionary should be as much a part of your equipment as pencils and paper.

10. Study the hardest things first.

This takes a great exertion of will. The temptation is great to take the line of least resistance and do the easy ones first. The trouble with that approach is that after your energy runs out, the hardest jobs remain. Hard chores never grow easier by aging.

It makes sense to do the hardest work when you are fresh and most alert and can give it your longest, best attention.

Remember the good advice offered by Thomas Huxley:

"Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is to make you do the things you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned."

TOMORROW: Better grades through better reading.

Announce Regional, District Pairings

Of Local Interest

The Jacksonville High Regional will be staged four nights starting Tuesday, Feb. 28, with two games starting at 7:00 and 8:30 p.m. Two contests will also be held Wednesday and Thursday nights with a lone encounter Friday night for the championship starting at 8:00 p.m.

The Jacksonville and Jerseyville regionals have no district winners assigned as does Havana, Rushville and Springfield. District playoffs will be held Feb. 20-24.

Coach Jack Renfro's Winchester Wildcats, who are undefeated, are favored at Jacksonville. Mason City is picked to win at Havana. Jerseyville at Jerseyville, Springfield at Springfield and Pittsfield at Rushville.

The Jacksonville regional pairings: Jacksonville (Route) vs Waverly — JHS vs Franklin; New Berlin vs Virginia.

Jerseyville Regional: Jerseyville vs Brussels; Southwestern vs Hardin — Greenfield vs Roodhouse; Carrollton vs White Hall.

Meredosa District: Meredosa vs East Pike; Bluffs a bye; Perry vs St. Mary's. Winner to Rushville regional.

Rushville Regional: Pittsfield vs Pleasant Hill; Brown County (Mt. Sterling) vs District winner; Triola vs Rushville; Beardstown vs Griggsville.

Greenview District: Greenview vs Blyki vs Ashland; Easton a bye; Chandler vs Tallula. Winner to Havana Regional.

Havana Regional: Mason City vs Astoria; Athens vs District winner; Havana vs Pleasant Plains; Manito (Forman) vs Petersburg.

Pawnee District: Pawnee a bye; Raymond vs Northwestern; Dyer vs St. James; Farmersville vs Girard. Winner to Springfield Regional.

Springfield Regional: Springfield vs Virden; Felshtans vs District winner; Griffin vs Auburn; Lanphier vs Glenwood.

National Distillers Corp., Bridgeport Brass Co. Plan Merger Involving Kordite

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y. — Jan. 30 — A proposal to merge two of the country's leading industrial enterprises — National Distillers and Chemical Corporation and Bridgeport Brass Co. — was announced here today.

John E. Bierwirth, chairman, and Roy F. Cooper Jr., president, of the National Distillers and Chemical Corporation, and Austin R. Zender, president, of Bridgeport Brass, said in a joint statement that the boards of directors of both companies had approved the merger in principle and that final details were being worked out for submission to the stockholders at annual meeting to be held in May.

The merger would bring together companies with combined annual sales of about $730,000,000 and assets of approximately $625,000,000.

Under the terms of the proposal, Bridgeport would be merged into National, with National exchanging 1.35 shares of its common stock for each share of Bridgeport common stock. As of Dec. 31, 1960 Bridgeport had outstanding 1,518,498 shares of common stock, indicating an exchange of approximately 2,050,000 of National's common shares. This would raise National's outstanding shares of common stock to about 12,500,000 on completion of the merger. Bridgeport's outstanding 202,510 shares of preferred stock would be converted into equivalent shares of a new issue of National preferred stock.

The joint statement noted that the two companies have been working together through Reactive Metals, Inc., — a 60 percent owned National subsidiary under the ownership of the other 40 percent is owned by Sharon Steel Corporation. Reactive Metals is one of the country's largest integrated producers and fabricators of Zirconium, Titanium, and Hafnium with plants at Ashtabula and Niles, Ohio.

Both companies would benefit from the merger, the executives said. "Bridgeport's extensive research, engineering, technological and sales skills in the metals and fabricated metal products fields would be more fully utilized in combination with the broader capital base created by the merger and National's metal activities would become more closely integrated with Bridgeport's operations. Since both companies recently have been emphasizing the development foreign markets, the consolidation would enable us to work closely and more intensively in this field."

They noted that on completion of the merger Bridgeport would become a division of National and that no changes would be made in management or staff. In addition to continuing as president of the

Orioles Will Be Contenders From Start: Richards

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP)—The Orioles will be contenders right from opening day this season. Last year, I wasn't so sure how fast some of our rookies and other young players would develop. As it turned out, they helped carry us to second place, and with a couple of breaks we could have given the Yankees trouble right down to the final day.

The way it looks now, our biggest improvement will be in the catching department. That's because Gus Triandos is healthy again and when he's right he gives us the long ball we need. Gus was out for two months last year following an operation on his hand and he wasn't the same good hitter when he returned. In fact, he had only 12 home runs compared with 25 the year before.

I think we helped ourselves in the outfield by getting Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog from Kansas City and Earl Robinson from the Dodgers. Snyder was real good potential and is a strong lefty hitter, something we lacked after losing Gene Woodling to Washington this winter.

Our infield is strong with Jim Gentile at first, Merv Breeding at second, Ron Hansen at short and Brooks Robinson at third. All except Robinson were rookies in 1960. Hansen slumped in the second half of last year, but I expect him to keep up a steady hitting pace all season in 1961. Also, we have a couple of good infielders from the minors, Ray Barker and Jerry Adair. Adair could make a fine utility man.

I have no pitching worries either. Chuck Estrada, Steve Barber, Milt Pappas and Jack Fisher, who almost took us all the way in 1960, will be back, and with another year's experience under their belts should do even better. Jerry Walker had a poor year, winning only three games, but he has the equipment to improve tremendously. Our older pitchers, Hoyt Wilhelm and Skinny Brown, can win if given proper rest.

There's been a lot said about the so-called sophomore jinx. In my opinion, it's nothing more than compacency and I aim to make sure that our fine rookies of last year don't get complacent.

Want to know the name of the All-America quarterback of 1960-61, the pass-catching ends who will be bidding high for the Jim Thorpe Trophy as professionals in 1960-61-62?

Who will be the stichest broken field runners, the smashing fullbacks of the immediate future? How about the tackles opening holes for off-tackle slants, the guards pulling out to clear a path for the carriers?

You don't have to go in a huddle with a squad of clairvoyants to discover these extraordinary youngsters. The chances are that they were picked on Scholastic Magazines' currently released 10th annual All-America High School Football Squad. No fewer than 78 super schoolboys from 36 states and the District of Columbia were selected this trip.

Because they excel in football, these are the real All-America boys, the most sought in the land. The colleges' hard rush and sell for their services are now on in full force and will continue through the summer.

GIVING YOU A ROUGH IDEA of the super-sensitivity of Scholastic Magazines' scouts, and confining ourselves to the glamour boys who are quarterbacks, no fewer than 14 All-Americas and 12 professionals have been on the lists the past nine years.

These include Bart Starr, Alabama and Green Bay; Jim Ninkowski and Earl Morrall, Michigan State and Detroit; Lee Groncup, Utah and New York; Paul Hornung and George Igo, Notre Dame and Green Bay; Randy Duncan, Iowa and the British Columbia Lions; and Milt Plum of Penn State and Cleveland.

A down more stuck out in college, including Kenny Ploen, Iowa; Bobby Cox, Minnesota; Cory Salaverra, Pittsburgh; Dean Loucka, Yale; Don Allard, Boston College; Claude Benham, Columbia; and Bob Schlorff, Washington.

Seventeen more still in college caught the eyes of the foragers while in high school. They include Stan Gann, Georgia Tech; Francis Tarantino, Georgia; six-six Guy Gibbs, Texas Christian; Little Larry Liberto, Florida; Ron Miller, Wisconsin; Joe Hall, Kansas; Mike Cotton, Texas; Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State; and the Iowa pair, Matt Szykowsky and Wilburn Hollis.

QUARTERBACK FRED MAZUREK of Redstone Township, Pa., is considered Pennsylvania's top catch. Mazurek, an A student, ran for 1,914 yards, completed 36 of 51 passes for 600, scored 13 touchdowns, passed for five more. Although his total yardage pales by comparison with that of Ernie Koy, Jr., a Bellville, Tex., fullback, and Bert Gravett, Denver City, Tex., quarterback placed at halfback, a much shorter season is played in the north and Mazurek's rushing average was 6.6 against toughies.

Redstone Township, incidentally, is the only school to land two players on this edition of the All-America high school squad, Don Croftcheck, a guard, also being designated.

Fred Mazurek and Don Croftcheck thus are among the newest additions of why colleges from Florida to the state of Washington and from Massachusetts to California are duly thankful for the Pennsylvania football foundry.

Collinsville Still Top Prep Five For 6th Straight Week

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Collinsville's Kahoks were a unanimous choice Monday for the No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press seventh weekly poll of Illinois high school basketball teams.

It marked the sixth straight week the Kahoks have held the top spot but the first time they have not been challenged.

Centerville grabbed the runnerup position and Rockford East took third, both gaining at the expense of Prospect, which dropped from second to fourth after losing to Wheaton.

Springfield and Peoria Manual retained fifth and sixth rankings in the poll by the AP panel of sports writers.

Danville Schlarman and Flora bowed out of the top 16, making way for the return of Litchfield and the debut of Waukegan in the ranked group. Schlarman lost to Peoria Spalding Sunday and Flora was upset last week by Lawrenceville.

The top 16 teams with won-lost records and poll points:

1. Collinsville 17-0 256
2. Centerville 18-1 231
3. Rockford East 15-1 208
4. Prospect 17-1 206
5. Springfield 16-1 176
6. Peoria Manual 15-1 159
7. Bridgeport 16-1 151
8. Clinton 17-1 137
9. Thornton 14-1 132
10. Pinckneyville 15-3 92
11. Chicago Carver 16-1 90
12. Moline 13-2 84
13. Washington 13-2 59
14. Chicago Marshall 15-3 43
15. Sterling 13-2 36
16. Litchfield 13-3 34

Other teams receiving votes included: Flora, Schlarman, Monmouth, Seneca, Farmington, Chicago Crane Tech, Chicago DuSable, Maine East and Proviso East.

The 72-foot heath, scratch boat in the 184-mile handicap race found the choppy seas and 18-mile winds to its liking as it grabbed a wide lead over E.S. Richardson's Good Hope and Meridian, owned by L. H. Read.

The boats are expected to reach Nassau by late Tuesday. They'll sail from Government Cut at Miami to Great Isaac Light, 55 miles northeast, then due east to Great Stirrup Bay, then southeast to Nassau Harbor.

Philadelphia was the only National League club to hit less than 100 home runs last season. The Phils hit 99.

There's nothing wanting in these values. Good, clean, used, and the price is right.

Marshall Fans Hoping Commandos Hit Stride By 1st Week In March

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time in the last eight years, no one team among the 45 basketball squads in the Chicago Public High School League stands out as a strong contender for the 1961 state tournament title.

Marshall, winner of the IHSA crowns in 1958 and 1960, and a formidable challenger in 1959, this season lost three of its first 18 games, and appears to have been severely hurt by the graduation of George Wilson, its brilliant all-state center, last June.

The Commandos also lost their veteran coach, Spin Salario, who resigned his Marshall post to become head basketball coach at Chicago Teachers College. However, with seven players returning from last year's title-winning squad, Marshall fans are hoping that the defending state champions will hit full stride by the time the league's top teams move into the title playoffs the first week in March.

The Public League team that wins the title playoffs gains the right to represent Chicago in the state tournament. Marshall, led by the 6-7 Wilson, has been the Public League standard bearer the last three years.

With Marshall a big question mark this year, the hopes of Chicago fans to have one of their teams advance to Championship rest chiefly with two other tournament wise squads—DuSable and Crane Tech.

DuSable's Panthers gained the tourney spotlight in 1953 and 1954, when Paxton Lumpkin, Sweet Charlie Brown, Shelle McMillon and their teammates brought to the Championship finals a free-wheeling type of basketball that won the plaudits of downstate fans and writers. DuSable's 1954 club reached the title game before losing to Mount Vernon, 76 to 70.

Jim Brown, who coached DuSable's great teams in '53 and '54, still is at the Panthers' helm. But the veteran coach admits that although this year's squad has height and hustle, its record of 11 victories against 3 losses in its first 14 games doesn't indicate championship caliber, unless the team jells for the playoffs.

And the Panthers could, since they suffered no midyear graduation losses.

Crane Tech, like DuSable, hasn't been hurt by midyear losses, and remains a team to reckon with. Crane's last tournament appearance was in 1957, when the Cougars beat Evanston in the super-sectional but lost to Springfield in the quarter-finals. This year's Crane club has won 14 of its first 16 games. One loss was to Marshall, the other to Carver.

Carver, the fourth of this season's Public League powers, had compiled an impressive 17-1 record by midyear graduation. Then the Challenger's hopes were virtually demolished when its one-two punch of Darius (Pete) Cunningham and Theodor Hike was issued diplomas.

Cunningham's shooting and ball handling were given chief credit for Carver's success this year, which was highlighted by a 55 to 46 victory over Marshall last December in the final game of the annual Public League holiday tournament at the University of Chicago.

Another team that merits state tournament consideration, Steinmetz, is a comparative newcomer in the higher echelons of basketball warfare.

Nonetheless, the Silver Streaks remain, after their first 15 games, the only unbeaten squad in the Public League. None of the teams beaten by Steinmetz, however, ranks among the established league powers—a factor that some observers consider important.

Steinmetz lost Mario Campanaro, its captain and playmaker, at midyear graduation and this is another factor Chicago fans are keeping in mind in their speculation on a likely league winner and tournament representative.

Winter, edged out Ohio State's national collegiate basketball champions 91-85 for third place, the Olympic team had 18 votes for first place and Ohio State 13.

The Pirates worked hard enough and waited long enough for the honor. It had been 35 years since their last previous world championship when Bill Mazeroski hoisted a towering home run in the ninth inning of the seventh game to give Pittsburgh a 10-9 victory and the series by a 4-3 margin.

After a disappointing 1959 season, Pittsburgh had been figured to finish about fourth in 1960. But with stubborn determination the Bucs went to the front early in the National League season and stuck there with only a couple of lapses until the end. They finished seven games ahead of the Milwaukee Braves.

In the World Series it was much the same. The Pirates went ahead in the first game. Twice they absorbed the kind of beatings that might have broken the spirit of any other team—16-3 and 12-0—but they wouldn't give up.

In the final game they trailed 7-4 going into their half of the eighth inning only to explode for five runs. Then after the Yanks tied it again, Mazeroski hit the payoff blow on the second pitch by Ralph Terry.

Ohio State continues To Be Unanimous Choice As No. 1 College Quintet

Associated Press Sports Writer Ohio State continues to be a unanimous choice as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country, but a brisk battle has developed between St. Bonaventure and Bradley for the runnerup spot in the Associated Press poll.

The cross-country panel gave the unbeaten Buckeyes all its 36 votes Monday for the seventh straight week. There was greater indecision on the No. 2 spot, with the Bonnies barely edging Bradley. The two teams clash Thursday at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The Bonnies received 22 votes for second place and nine for third. Bradley collected 11 seconds and 22 thirds.

On the basis of ten for a first place vote, nine for second, etc., St. Bonaventure held the runnerup position with 305 points to 281 for Bradley. Ohio State, of course, had 360, the maximum.

Duke, which crushed Clemson last week 79-59, jumped into fourth place followed in order by North Carolina, Iowa, Louisville, Southern California, St. John's and Kansas State.

Ohio State's 92-61 triumph in the widely publicized game with the Bombers was the team's 14th straight of the campaign and virtually assured the Buckeyes a perfect season. Their toughest remaining game is with Iowa Feb. 12.

Iowa, idle last week, held firm to the No. 6 slot behind North Carolina, also idle. Louisville, 82-66 winner over Kentucky Wesleyan, leaped a notch from eighth place, which was taken over by Southern California, winner over Air Force and Denver.

St. John's managed to remain in the select circle despite a three-point loss, 60-57, to St. Louis. The New York team was seventh a week ago.

St. Bonaventure and Bradley had identical 14-1 records through last week's games. The Bonnies were idle. Bradley beat Marquette 64-68.

The top ten, with won-lost records through Saturday and first place votes in parenthesis (points based on 10-9-8, etc. count):

1. Ohio State (36) (14-0) 360
2. St. Bonaventure (14-1) 305
3. Bradley (14-1) 281
4. Duke (14-1) 218
5. North Carolina (12-2) 203
6. Iowa (12-2) 194
7. Louisville (15-2) 134
8. Southern California (14-2) 118
9. St. John's (10-3) 48
10. Kansas State (12-3) 39

Others receiving votes: Mississippi State, Memphis State, UCLA, Cincinnati, West Virginia, Providence, Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Indiana, De Paul, Utah, St. Joseph's, Kansas, Oregon State, Detroit and Wake Forest.

Notre Dame Beats Butler, 74-69

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Notre Dame's basketball Irish led from the opening minutes Monday night in a 74-69 victory over Butler University's Bulldogs.

Butler had won five straight games since a 72-56 defeat at Notre Dame Jan. 4.

Six-foot-seven John Tully scored 23 points for the Irish, only 3 on free throws, and hauled down 34 rebounds. Notre Dame's domination of the boards was the big difference.

Tom Bowman topped Butler shooters with 25 points.

The victory put Notre Dame on the black side of the ledger, 9-5. Butler's defeat was its eighth in 18 games.

One of the most interesting chapters in the Fry book discusses ways and means to lose with any partner. In other words, he points out habits to avoid and one of the worst habits is the trap bid.

South's four spade bid is a perfect example of the trap bid. East had a sound overall of South's "opening" heart bid. West bid two hearts: North two spades; and East three hearts.

At this point South decided to pass. Perhaps his reason was he did not want to push the opponents into four hearts; perhaps he forgot that it was his turn to bid. Anyway, he passed and so did

Miss Thompson,
Famed Columnist,
Found Dead

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Dorothy Thompson, famed newspaper columnist, author and lecturer, was found dead in her hotel room today. She was 66.

A maid discovered the body when she entered with breakfast for Miss Thompson, who suffered a heart attack here several weeks ago.

Miss Thompson, a newspaper columnist for 22 years, announced her retirement Aug. 19, 1958. Her decision to retire was based in part upon the death of her third husband, Maxim Kopf, a Czech painter. They had been married since 1943.

Miss Thompson first was married, in 1923, to Joseph Bard, a Hungarian. They were divorced in 1928.

The same year she married the novelist Sinclair Lewis. They had a son, Michael, but were divorced in 1943. The novelist died in Rome in 1951.

Miss Thompson was born in Lancaster, N.Y. July 9, 1894. She was graduated from Lewis Institute in Chicago in 1911 and from Syracuse University in 1914. She took graduate study at several universities.

Miss Thompson was a woman of opinions, with the ability to express them. Sometimes they embroiled her in controversy.

In 1934 the Nazis expelled her from Germany, where she had been a correspondent. Her book, "I Saw Hitler," was banned in Germany in 1937.

In 1943, Miss Thompson addressed the Congress of American Soviet Friendship, but by 1944 Russian publications were assailing her for her views on Soviet policy.

BEANS SLUMP IN PROFIT TAKING

CHICAGO (AP)—Profit takers raked the grain futures market today for some of the accruals in Monday's broad general advance.

Soybeans which slumped almost 10 cents a bushel in initial dealings met some limited support at the extreme declines but still lagged by six cents a bushel or more on old crop contracts.

Brokers in the pit said the selling which hit hard at the start of trading was linked with sharp setbacks in soybean oil and soybean meal, both of which reached new seasonal highs in the previous session.

After the first burst of liquidation passed, prices appeared to have leveled off with only partial recovery.

In the grains, dealers said the market apparently had been overbought in Monday's advance and that some adjustment was expected.

Soybeans were 21-61 cents a bushel lower shortly before noon, March $2.59 1/2; corn 11-24 lower, March $2.13 1/2; corn 1-1 lower, March $1.15; oats 1-1 lower, March $1.18 1/2.

Soybeans slipped again in the final few minutes of trading and closed 3 1/2 to 4 cents a bushel lower, March $2.54 1/2-57 1/2; wheat 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower, March $2.13 1/2; corn 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, March $1.15 1/2; oats 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, March 66 1/2; oats 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, March $1.19 1/2.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The very grimness of President Kennedy's view of the state of the economy could give business a life.

This seeming paradox lies in the response that Wall Street and business planners often take to any indication that Washington is about to loosen further the government purse strings.

And they figure that if the President thinks business is that bad at home and defense needs that urgent, he'll lend an ear to adjustment of more spending.

After their first reaction to the President's State of the Union message, stock traders might take the view that certain industries are bound to be getting new orders soon, that new money will be finding its way into the pockets of the unemployed and others, that various other spending schemes will be pushed.

Such programs usually take a time to be turned into actual money in the till, but the prospect of their approach could give a new outlook on business prospects to many who have been waiting to see just what the new administration would do.

President Kennedy says flatly we've been in a recession since mid 1960. And he thinks the recovery from the 1958 recession is still "not very convincing. All of which he says, calls for government action which he'll spell out in coming days.

At the same time, however, he pledges to keep the dollar sound. Just how he proposes to do both—push government pump priming and avoid further inflation—he promises to outline later.

Business already had taken note of the sizable jump in government expenditures proposed in the 1962 fiscal budget offered by outgoing President Eisenhower. And businessmen are well aware that Kennedy's advisers are urging plans that would call for still larger spending.

The Wall Street bulls have tentatively started paving the ground.

Businessmen—both Democrats and Republicans—also take the same attitude as to the probable effect on the economy of the State of the Union views. Democrats, along with most labor leaders, will say it's about time Washington admitted business conditions needed a helping hand. Republicans, although doubting the pump priming needed, see it as threatening more inflation—the end result being business stimulation, however unhealthy.

The conservative view of present business conditions differs materially from Kennedy's. It holds with President Eisenhower that most of the current troubles are due to cutbacks in inventories. It stresses that final demand is sustained—that is, consumption of goods is at about the same pace as this time last year. Factories and merchants just aren't laying in stocks.

Expect Reds To Reject Chiang's
Offer Of Food

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists are expected to reject Chiang Kai-shek's offer of food to relieve famine on the mainland.

The Free China Relief Association on Formosa prepared an appeal to the International Red Cross to ship the 100,000 metric tons of rice offered by the Chinese Nationalist government.

Chiang said if the Peiping regime snubs his proposal, "then my government will take every possible risk to deliver relief supplies to the mainland on our own initiative, by land, sea or air."

Preparing for air drops, the Free China Relief Association began making up 10,000 ration kits weighing about one pound each. They were packed with dried beef, dried pork, fish powder and dehydrated vegetables.

Chiang called on the people of Formosa for food, clothing and money to help relieve the acute shortages that the Communist admit exist on the mainland.

In a speech to government officials Monday, Chiang also appealed to other countries and international relief agencies to persuade Peiping to open ports to receive aid. He pledged that he would not use food shipments as a guise for military action against the Communists.

Chinese Communist sources in Hong Kong said the Peiping regime has quietly relaxed restrictions on incoming food packages and removed duties on them. The charges sometimes ran as high as 50 per cent.

A recent press survey showed some $80,000 worth of food is being shipped every day by Hong Kong to China—mostly food that originally was exported from the mainland to the neighboring British colony.

The Communists have admitted that China is suffering from grave food shortages as a result of the greatest natural disasters in a century—typhoons, floods, droughts and insect invasion.

Bar Sobriety
Blood Test
Taken By Untruth

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A circuit judge has ruled that the constitutional rights of John Shapuras, 34, of Westville, Ill., were violated when authorities obtained a sample of his blood by deception.

Following the ruling Monday by Judge Robert F. Cotton, a charge of reckless homicide against Shapuras was dismissed.

John R. Dean, Vermilion County state's attorney, moved for the dismissal, declaring the state no longer had sufficient evidence to prosecute after the court upheld Shapuras' petition to bar the blood test as evidence.

Cotton upheld Shapuras' contention that authorities had violated his protection under the Fifth Amendment, barring compulsory self-incrimination.

In Illinois, a blood test may be used as evidence in gauging a person's sobriety.

Shapuras was charged with reckless homicide in the death of Jim Jordan, 20, of Cayuga, Ind., stemming from a two-car collision in which Shapuras also was injured.

In his petition, Shapuras said he refused to submit to a blood test for authorities. Later, while receiving treatment in a hospital, he said, a doctor took a blood sample, saying his superiors requested it.

Shapuras said this blood sample was turned over to authorities, although he was under the impression it was only to be used in determining medical treatment.

Judge Cotton declared there was no precedent for the deception.

Calls Boston's
Transit Strike
'Outrageous Act'

Commissioner Thomas J. Griffin banned all downtown parking of pleasure cars. His office explained the action was taken in anticipation of an increase in the normal daily traffic from 100,000 cars to about 250,000.

The strikers stayed away from their jobs with the excuse they were sick—an explanation repeated over and over in early morning telephone calls. But William V. Ward, one of the MTA board of trustees, asserted this was patently untrue.

"This is an outrageous act by the Carmen's Union," Ward said. "It's a full-blown strike definitely inspired by irresponsible leaders, not a legal strike, and it cannot be condoned as sick leave. It's an attempt to blackmail the public and smear the trustees and management."

The publicly owned Transit Authority serves 690,000 daily riders in 14 cities and towns.

In its absence, travelers used any method they could think of to get to work. Car pools were organized. Some riders switched to trains often going far out of their way to make connections. Others thumbing rides. In the city tax drivers rarely have found business so flourishing.

Mounting employee dissatisfaction over wages-plus the effect of a court decision Monday voiding what the employees had thought was their first contract since the date of 1959—triggered the absenteeism.

Last Aug. 22-23 a work stoppage ostensibly over the suspension of a single driver for refusal to work overtime—but in reality, as union officials conceded later, a protest against management's refusal to arbitrate the long pending contract dispute—shut down the system for 24 hours.

The Boston Retail Trade Board estimated that strike cost merchants $6 million dollars, not counting losses suffered in other areas such as theaters and restaurants. This also took no account of widespread inconvenience.

Cubans Seek To Stay In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventy-five Cubans, granted temporary asylum by the United States, may find out today whether they can remain in this country.

The group of men, women and children arrived here Monday aboard the Spanish ship Covadonga. They were allowed to land "on parole, pending complete investigation" after hours of screening by immigration officials who checked with superiors in Washington.

They quickly spread among friends and various Cuban organizations which housed them.

Peter Eperdy, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said they were told to return today for final processing.

The 75 were among 215 passengers on the 10,000-ton cruise ship which left Havana Friday. Many told stories of narrow escape.

The first reaction of the immigration service was to reject the pleas for asylum, on grounds that the travelers were able to continue to Spain, their original destination.

Eperdy said the Spanish government already had granted them visas and thus had provided sanctuary. Exceptions were being made for those with close family ties in this country.

Miss Lucy Lamar, publisher of the Calhoun Herald, was taken by ambulance Sunday morning from her home in Hardin, to Jersey Community Hospital.

Washington Monday by Communist diplomats attached to the United Nations. They said they got it from Moscow.

The General Assembly reconvenes March 7. The sources said Khrushchev intends to be there for one week.

The Communist diplomat said their information is that Khrushchev would be willing to go into either a highly informal get-acquainted session with Kennedy, or to sit down with him for very extensive talks. They reported his tentative plans do not extend to any travel outside of New York.

The sources said the decision on any sort of meeting, and on the circumstances as well, would be a matter for Kennedy.

Kennedy was asked at his news conference last week about the prospect for a meeting with Khrushchev.

"There are no plans at the present time for a meeting with Mr. Khrushchev," the President replied, but newsmen noted that he had not foreclosed the possibility of different plans at any later time.

Red China May Be Starting
Trade Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—In what may be the start of a new Red Chinese trade offensive in Southeast Asia, Peking quickly has offered to sell 30,000 tons of Cuban sugar to Burma at an undisclosed price.

U.S. officials, reporting this today, said Red China also has shipped more than 100,000 tons of rice to Cuba, 15,000 tons of rice to Guinea in North Africa and the equivalent of more than $20 million in foodstuffs, mainly rice, to Ceylon.

Thus, China would be exporting food although it has reported its harvests have been struck by the greatest natural calamities in a century.

U.S. experts closely following Chinese Communist affairs say that, so far, there has been no evidence of mass famine on the Chinese mainland although there are signs of localized scarcities, particularly in South China.

"I hope to enter Recife on the same solemn day that Brazil initiates a new era headed by your admirable and honored President," Galvao said.

Lacerda earlier told newsmen in Brasilia he expected Galvao would be given 24 hours to debar the passengers, refund and depart again for the high seas. If he seeks asylum, Lacerda said, it will be granted, but the ship probably would then be returned to its owners.

The liner Vera Cruz, a sister ship of the Santa Maria, decided to bypass Recife on her voyage back to Lisbon from Rio de Janeiro. It was announced the ship, carrying a security guard of Portuguese secret police, will head for Lisbon directly from Salvador, 400 miles down the coast from Recife.

The Smith & Galvao meeting came 55 miles southeast of Recife and about 35 miles off the Brazilian bulge below this city.

The admiral's mission was to arrange release of the passengers, about two score of them Americans, caught up in the seafaring political intrigue. The Navy wanted a landing at Recife so the passengers would not have to undergo a risky transfer at sea.

From a U. S. Navy plane I watched Smith's destroyer approach the rendezvous. The Santa Maria was steaming slowly northward at five knots. Both vessels halted their engines when they were a bit more than a quarter mile apart.

The decks of the Santa Maria appeared deserted except for a few persons who might have been crew members in the aft section.

Galvao declared his readiness to unload the trapped tourists, but he was awaiting a promise of immunity from Brazil's new president, Janio Quadros, for himself and his band of some 70 self-styled revolutionists and the $16.6 million prize they seized in the Caribbean nine days ago.

Galvao hoped that Quadros, taking office at noon, would give him an official promise that neither he nor the Santa Maria would be turned over to Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

TO ASK APPROPRIATIONS FOR KASKASKIA PROJECTS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—An appropriation of $121,000 for work at the Carlyle and Shelbyville reservoirs on the Kaskaskia River will be introduced in the Legislature by Sen. Dwight Friedrich, R-Centralia.

Friedrich said Monday the amount was decided upon by the Army Corps of Engineers as the state's share in the reservoirs' construction during the next two years.

Friedrich told the Illinois Budgetary Commission that under the bill he will submit, at least $308,400 will be allocated to the Shelbyville project.

The Shelbyville reservoir is in the planning stage. The Carlyle reservoir is under construction.

NEW AF COMMAND
HEADQUARTERS TO BE AT SCOTT BASE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Air Force is creating a new command to be responsible for its global communications.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, announced formation of the Air Force Communications Service Monday night and said it will go into operation July 1 with responsibilities formerly "divided among many Air Force commands and agencies."

At Washington, the Air Force said the new command will have headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

White termed the current warning system against attack by jet planes "highly effective" and noted that "we also have the initial segment of a ballistic missile warning system in operation." However he warned, "we have a long way to go in completing a total system which will be both effective and reliable."

The target time passed and later the rocket was returned to its gantry, indicating that serious difficulties had been encountered and there might be a delay of hours.

In that case, there was a likelihood that the original chimp would be taken out of the capsule and replaced by his alternate or still another ape.

Main purpose of the flight will be to determine whether the chimp can perform tasks under extreme conditions of blastoff and re-entry and during a five-minute period of eerie weightlessness at the top of the arching trajectory. They have been trained to conduct lever-pushing behavioral tasks while the capsule zips through space at 4,200 miles an hour.

If the flight is completely successful, there is a good chance one of America's astronauts will take a similar ride into the space within two months.

A fleet of ships, planes and helicopters were stationed in the intended impact area 290 miles down range to attempt recovery of the space chamber and its tiny rider. The flight was planned to last 16 minutes.

Six of the seven U. S. astronauts were here for the vital test. The seventh, Virgil Grissom, was in St. Louis in connection with Project Mercury business.

Mounted within the chimp's view will be a three-light panel, one red, one white, one blue. Two levers are at the base of the panel, near each hand.

The red light will be on throughout the trip. The chimp is trained to push the right lever at least once every 20 seconds when he sees it. If 20 seconds pass without a hit, he receives a slight electric shock.

Every two minutes the blue light will blink on for five seconds. If the animal does not punch the left lever in this five-second period he gets a shock. The white light flashes on whenever he strikes a lever, telling him he is responding correctly.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell
Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Blanche Hudson is terrified by her sister Jane, who has chosen horrifying methods of torture. Jane, since Blanche became a film star, Blanche was crippled at the back of her career and now Jane cares for her. Jane's methods include cutting off Blanche from contact with the outside world.

VIII
Blanche had seen that even without the telephone there was still a way to summon assistance.

No sooner had the idea come to her than she had gotten a pad of note paper and a pencil and gone to work.

"Mrs. Bates," she had written in a wide, agitated scrawl, "this is from your neighbor, Blanche Hudson. I am forced to ask your help in a very serious matter. For reasons I can not explain in this note, I am not able to use my telephone. As I need desperately to reach my doctor, I am asking you to call him for me. His name is Dr. Warren Shelby, and his office number is OL 6-5541. Please ask him to come here to my home to see me as quickly as possible. Tell him not to call before hand but just to come. Please do this for me. It is a matter of life and death. Do not, under any circumstances, disturb my sister about this matter."

When she had finished it she had folded it over carefully and put it in the right hand pocket of her robe, where it would be handy when she needed it.

And then she dreamed. In her dream she had been a little girl again, five or six years old.

Jane's daily practice period was religiously maintained in order to keep her "in shape," even during her month of holiday, and to prepare new material for the fall bookings. It took place between the hours of two and four and was held out on the porch, according to her father's explanation, so that Jane might take full advantage of the healthful salt air. If, at the same time, a large number of onlookers was attracted from the ranks of the casual visitors on the beach, Blanche, chubby and tanned in her sagging blue-and-white striped bathing suit, was permitted to attend, but only as one of the spectators. Her designated place was close behind her father's chair from which he provided Jane's musical accompaniment on a magnificent five-stringed banjo. Jane's work period was to be regarded always with respect and solemn sobriety; Blanche was suffered to watch only on the strict admonition that she was to be absolutely silent.

Watching Jane perform her songs and dances before the rapt stares of her porchside audience, she felt within herself a burgeoning desire to share at least a ray of Jane's bright spotlight.

The ring of the banjo loud in her ears, Blanche darted out suddenly from behind her father's chair and joined Jane, forthwith, in the dance. Jumping violently up and down, she shook her head and waved her arms in an idiot frenzy of excitement.

And then, in the next instant, retribution befell her: a hand struck her stinging across the face, and another caught at her hair and pulled it so hard that she was thrown to the floor. Jane's voice shrilled close to her ear.

"Go away! You go away, you

"Go away, go away!" Then a larger, harder hand, her father's, was around her arm, jerking her dizzily to her feet.

"What do you think you're trying to do?" he father roared. "What's got into you?"

Blanche looked up dazedly into his flushed and furious face, and for a moment she was assailed by a terrible feeling of sickness. At the same time she was aware of Jane standing close beside her, arms akimbo, breathing heavily with exertion and righteous indignation.

"You can't dance, you dirty little fatty!" And then her father led her swiftly across the porch and down the steps to the sand. "Don't come back till you're ready to behave yourself," he said.

Blanche had stumbled away. Out of sight of the tittering onlookers, she had taken shelter beneath the wooden steps leading down from the back porch.

Nearly two hours later her mother found her and taking her hand, led her out along the dusk-dimmed beach. Out of sight of the cottage they stopped. Her mother, sitting down on a rock that jutted out of the sand, drew her close.

"You mustn't mind sweet heart," her mother told her. "Your daddy didn't really mean it, not the way it seemed. It's just that he has to give Jane a lot of special attention that he doesn't give to you—or even to me—because of her work. We owe such a lot to Jane, you know, all of us. Jane works very hard for us—and for you, too, dear." Her mother lifted her chin gently with the tip of her finger and gazed deeply for a moment into her eyes.

"But you're the lucky one, sweetheart, you really and truly are, if you only knew it. You'll see one day. And when you do, you must remember to be kinder to Jane and your father than they are to you now." (To Be Continued)

JUST WHAT SHE WANTED
SUMMERTON, S. C. (A) — Years ago at the presentation of a silver tray to a friend for a public service, Clarendon county home demonstration agent Eleanor Carson was heard to say:

"I'd rather have a hog." When she retired recently after 38 years service, the County Council of Farm Women presented her a gift—a 6-month-old pedigreed pig, decked out in a red cash.

Student Speaks To Pilot Club On Mexico

The Jacksonville Pilot Club met Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Terrace Room of the Dunlap hotel for the January program meeting. Eighteen members were present.

Invocation was given by Pilot Catherine Rowe.

At dessert time the birthday of Pilot Eleanor Jones was observed by the presentation of a corsage, a miniature birthday cake with glowing candles, and the birthday song.

The meeting was called to order by President Louise Bancroft and the Pilot Code of Ethics was beautifully read by Eleanor Jones.

Program chairman Marilyn Schille introduced Lloyd Hanna, a senior student at MacMurray College, Mr. Hanna's home is in Farmersville, Ill.

For the "International Relations" program, Mr. Hanna chose to speak on Mexico and captivated his audience with real life stories of that country. During the course of his talk he related how his parents were screened and selected to have in their home at Farmersville an exchange student from Mexico. Mr. Hanna answered many questions asked by club members.

The "International Relations" theme was carried out by the program chairman in the table decorations. A low bowl of white snapdragons, pink carnations, white mums and fern leaves graced the table. Twisted candles of pale pink on matching bases which held tiny flags of all nations completed the picture. These were awarded to Rhoda Samore at the close of the meeting.

President Bancroft reported the chartering of a new pilot club at Muscatine, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Samore will represent the local club on charter night in that city.

For the February 1st meeting, a planned potluck dinner will be held at the home of Pilot Marge Marsh, 225 Webster avenue, at 6:30 p.m.

Grafton Service Station Robbed

JERSEYVILLE — Burglars broke into the Major Service Station in the City of Grafton some time after one a.m. Sunday and got away with about $20 in change from the cash register.

The burglars entered the station by a rear window which they broke. Inside the station they effected an entrance into the inside office where they opened the cash register and removed the compartment used for loose coins.

Grafton police investigated the robbery and in turn notified the office of Sheriff Howard Perdue. Sheriff Perdue and Chief Deputy Adam Desheria went to Grafton Sunday afternoon to assist in the investigation.

Jensen Bonus Concert Sunday Most Rewarding

The brilliant, young organ virtuoso, Wilma Jensen, was presented in a "bonus" concert Sunday afternoon by the Jacksonville-MacMurray Music Association.

Playing an admirably varied and appealing program on the large, four-manual Aeolian-Skinner in Merner Chapel, Mrs. Jensen gave a performance which was as satisfying musically as it was organically entrancing.

Her playing afforded abundant proof of her cultivated technique and sterling musicianship.

For an organist, such accomplishment involves not only those matters which are musically universal but also those which are peculiarly involved in the utilization of an essentially mechanical contrivance as an eminently musical vehicle. An impossible task, some say, and it may well-nigh be impossible for some! But now and again we hear convincing evidence that the organ can be a truly musical instrument in spite of, or perhaps because of, its mechanical intricacies, and at the same time we are reminded that some of the greatest music of all time was composed for the organ. We were both convinced and reminded Sunday afternoon in Merner Chapel.

Admirable Traits

The most outstanding and admirable characteristics of Mrs. Jensen's playing were her unflagging rhythmic alertness and vivacity, and her compelling dramatic fervor. On the other hand, this same spirited exuberance might have been the cause of the tendency, though infrequent, to force the pace in the quicker movements with a resulting momentary loss of musical poise. This appeared to be only a minor problem, because for the most part Mrs. Jensen's playing was highly adroit and sympathetic, the various moods and styles in her program being aptly caught.

There were a great many high spots in her performance Sunday afternoon, too numerous to mention. However, especially notable were her taut, dramatic rendition of Bach's popular D minor Toccata & Fugue, the electrifying pyrotechniques she realized in Bruce Simonds' vivid tour de force, her whirlwind reading of Langlais's beguiling bit for the flute stops, and her stirring, supercharged presentation of Jehan Alain's anguished "Litanyes." Apparently, Eric Delamarter's "Fountain" is filled mostly with sugar-water, but as an encore it perhaps satisfied those in the audience with a sweet tooth.

Wilma Jensen's stunning success in the concert field (this spring she makes her second transcontinental tour in two years) must be a source of special satisfaction to many in the Jacksonville area because of her association during her childhood (then Wilma Jean Hoyle) in Virginia and Virden where her father was Methodist minister, and because of her early training in the Music Department of MacMurray College.

Mr. and Mrs. Deadrick Lynn, Virginia, became parents of a son born at 3:23 p.m. Monday at Our Saviour's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kidd, 242 Prospect street, became parents of a son born at 2:42 a.m. Tuesday at Our Saviour's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone of Indianapolis, Ind., became parents of a daughter born in that city on Saturday, Jan. 28.

Stock Siloam Springs Park With Rabbits

The Quinsippi Beagle Club released more than 120 wild rabbits at Siloam Springs Park near Mount Sterling last week.

The club uses Siloam park for field trial purposes. The rabbits were released not only for the benefit of the club, but also to make the park more interesting to visitors. They were purchased from a trapping firm in Otterville, Mo.

Although natural food sources are abundant Siloam Springs members of the Beagle club have distributed corn, hay and salt blocks as insurance against starvation in case the snow becomes too deep for the little animals to forage.

Births

Dr. and Mrs. Surah Gam, 400 West Michigan avenue, became parents of a daughter born at 3:19 a.m. Tuesday at Passavant hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Deadrack Lynn, Virginia, became parents of a son born at 3:23 p.m. Monday at Our Saviour's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kidd, 242 Prospect street, became parents of a son born at 2:42 a.m. Tuesday at Our Saviour's hospital.

300 Volunteers Plan All-Out Effort In City-County Areas

More than 300 volunteers plan a house to house canvass of Jacksonville and other outlying areas in an effort to boost the current campaign fund for the National Foundation whose work in the past and future may help unlock the mystery surrounding crippling diseases.

January 31 has been set as the date for the annual Mothers' March on Polio throughout the United States.

In addition to volunteers working in Jacksonville and South Jacksonville, workers will be calling in Lynnville, Murreysville, Woodson, Franklin, Alexander and Chapin.

The annual Mothers' March has been completed in Waverly, Meredossia, Litterberry and Markham. Each mother making calls tonight will wear a special tag with a gold and blue key while making the collections throughout the city area.

Residents are asked to turn their porch lights on and contribute generously toward the far-reaching research program. This same research program already has produced the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines and two Nobel prizes. Officials have every reason to hope that it will cast new light on the causes of crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Starts at 6:15 P.M.

The Mothers' March will start at 6:15 p.m. tonight and continue until the city and outlying areas have been covered. The campaign is expected to wind-up about 10 p.m.

In addition to the mothers who have volunteered their services in the interest of the March of Dimes, more than 100 men have been asked to act as drivers for the volunteers. Salem Lutheran School will be headquarters for the drive and the results will appear as soon as they are compiled.

The annual March of Dimes campaign is conducted during the month of January throughout the country. Mrs. Ray McKinley is the 1961 chairman for Morgan County.

Mothers' March chairmen are Mrs. William Shouse, Mrs. Carl Shambacher and Mrs. Otto Beerup. Please say "yes" to the New March of Dimes—TONIGHT!

Illinois Enrolls More For Selective Service

Selective Service local boards in Illinois acquired a heavier workload of registrants in 1960 as compared with the previous year, according to a year-end summary issued by William A. Manning, State Director of Selective Service, received by the Morgan County Selective Service Board.
